Observations...

By the Editor

October 31 was the deadline for the purchase of automobile tags, and those who failed to secure their tags are liable for damages. And while on this subject, we would like to call the sheriff's attention to the number of people living in Bay St. Louis, who journey to Louisiana to secure their license plates. These folks use our streets and roads and enjoy all the benefits which other taxpayers have, so why should they be allowed to use an out of state license. The revenue of the county in privilege license for the automobile, personal property tax, and in gasoline tax distribution is lost to the county when any of our people secure a tag from another state. After all, if you are living here, this is your town and your county, so why not help pay your way? Mr. Sheriff, we feel certain the fair thinking people of this county will back you in a move to see that these folks get a Hancock County license for their cars. The law says they must.

The American Legion sponsored Chocolate Bowl Football game between the Bay St. Louis Tigers and the Bogalusa Black Lumberjacks, which was scheduled for last Sunday has been postponed to this Sunday, November 19. It seems the Lumberjacks got mixed up in their bus schedule and could not make it here. You may rest assured if you attend, you will have a real afternoon of pleasure. These boys play heads up football and give all they have. We want to commend the members and management of the Bay Tigers for the public spirit they exemplify. Each year they play the Chocolate Bowl game for the Legion and then play another game for the benefit of the Brother Peter Memorial Christmas Tree Fund.

For many years St. Stanislaus has held each year a Christmas Tree for the poor children of this county. It is practice was started by Brother Peter, and since his death, it has been dedicated to his memory. The children, both white and colored, who are given gifts each year number several hundred. With the rise in cost of these articles this year, Brother Alexis, President of St. Stanislaus finds that the benefits given for this worthwhile charity will not cover the expense. We are joining with him in asking that you make a contribution to this worthy cause, and that you mail your check to Brother Alexis. We shall publish each week the contributions as they are received. Remember the money you give will make some youngster happy. Without this Christmas Tree he or she would probably have a very barren Christmas.

Mr. C. Ramsey, right-of-way agent for the Mississippi Highway Department, is making much progress in securing options for the right-of-way along Highway 90. From all indications it appears he will encounter very little difficulty in securing the signatures of all parties along the present highway whose property will be affected by the widening of the road. The securing of these right-of-way options means the location of the bridge at its present site.

There will be a big time in the old town Saturday Night. It will be homecoming for Bay High, and the Old Grads and the Boosters Club will be on hand to make it a gala affair. The Tigers of Bay High will meet Lucedale in the homecoming game which starts at 8 p.m. The pre-game parade will start at Bay High, and will line up at 6:30 p.m. and will leave at 7:15. Miss Irma Joan Lee has been chosen as homecoming queen and her court will consist of Misses Cecil McCaleb, Shirley Davis, Betty Culppepper and Helen Moran as maids. The homecoming dance will be held at Bay High Gym following the game.

The Teen Agers are on the move again. These youngsters are going to have a Harvest Ball on Tuesday Night, November 21. Miss Willis Yates will be the queen and Henry Capdepon Jr. was chosen as King. This affair is being given for the benefit of the Youth Center.

Chocolate Bowl Set For Sunday

The Chocolate Bowl, sponsored by the Clement B. Bontemps Post 139 of the American Legion, was postponed last Sunday because the Bogalusa Black Lumberjacks were unable to secure transportation.

The game between the Lumberjacks and Bay St. Louis Tigers will be held Sunday, November 19 at 2:30 p.m. at the St. Stanislaus stadium.

Admission will be seventy-five cents for adults and thirty-five cents for children, plus tax.

Boosters Plan Homecoming Parade

The Bay High Boosters completed plans for the school's homecoming celebration Saturday, November 18, at a meeting of the Boosters and their wives.

John Rutherford, president, presided at the meeting and set the program. The parade will form at Bay High at 6:30 p.m. and leave at 7:15 p.m. The route will be out Carroll avenue to the beach, south on the beach to Main, out Main to Necaise avenue, and south to the stadium.

In the homecoming game, the tigers will make their final home appearance of the year against Lucedale. A dance at the school gymnasium will close the festivities. Over 500 invitations have been sent out for the dance. The Bay High "B" Club will entertain the visiting team and their dates.

Bill Witter is chairman of the decorating committee. Anyone who would like to have his car decorated for the parade should see Witter before 6:30 Saturday. Those who prefer to decorate their own cars, can obtain the materials from him.

Miss Irma Joan Lee has been chosen as homecoming queen. The maids will be Cecil McCaleb, Helen Ruth Moran, Shirley Davis, and Betty Culppepper. The maids will be escorted by members of the football team. The queen will be crowned at half-time ceremonies.

Mrs. E. C. Samuel was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Central School P-T. A. Tuesday night. Mrs. Samuel talked on the responsibility of parents to the political life of the community, and the training of their children for good citizenship.

Mrs. Samuel said that the local League of Women Voters had worked unceasingly to get their members out to vote in the recent election and though they were in a measure successful yet the vote polled did not show a marked interest in who went into office.

She stressed the importance of people being thoroughly acquainted with the political life of their community and said that in the recent study made by the League of Women Voters she was surprised to see how few people knew how Bay St. Louis got its charter and how valuation of property was arrived at, or how the city's finances were designated and spent.

Mrs. Samuel said that children are often brought up in a home where voting was of little significance and where the family felt it too much trouble to get out and vote. She said, "political affairs should be discussed before children until it became part of the main interest of the family."

The business meeting followed Mrs. Samuel's talk and several issues were brought up for discussion.

Mrs. John Husband spoke on the legislative aspect of the district meeting which she attended at Gulfport. The National Legislative program is determined by the National Program Committee. Any local unit may propose legislation to be promoted by the national organization. After approval of the program committee of the National Congress P-T. A. it is referred to the state boards for their approval. Because in the changing aspects of the present day, these items have been sent back to each local unit for their vote so as to have an accurate record of the present desires of the membership. These items are to be voted upon at the next meeting.

The legislation to be promoted on approval of the local units concerns child labor, adequate support for agencies such as Children's Bureau; Federal aid for education; health, library service; national defense; postal legislation to raise postal rates on certain types of literature; school lunches; and prohibitive legislation for advertising of alcohol beverages.

Mrs. Allen Ansley reported on the sale of lunch and other refreshments on REA Day and said

One Thousand Children of County Taken Care of In Annual Christmas Event

Each year Saint Stanislaus has a Christmas Tree for the poor children of Bay St. Louis and Hancock County. This annual event is in honor of Brother Peter, former President of Saint Stanislaus, who inaugurated and developed it.

Last year approximately twelve hundred children, both white and colored, received toys, fruit, and candy. This is a great growth from the few hundred who were taken care of in the first years. Naturally, the sum of money necessary to continue this affair must increase to take care of the greater numbers who benefit by it.

The money has been raised in the past principally by the annual award of two Sugar Bowl Tickets on the fifty-yard line. To this, money derived from football games played by the Bay Tigers (Colored), the Flea-Fly Annual Contest, and a team made up of the young men of Bay St. Louis, has been added. Individuals and some organizations have made substantial donations. It is felt that more people in Bay Saint Louis would like to share in this Christmas event, and the Sea Coast Echo has opened its columns for those who wish to take this means of adding to the fund.

Mail your check or give your donation to Brother Alexis, President of St. Stanislaus. Your name and the amount you give will be published.

Father Bryan found Ireland quiet with the people attending to their own problems and not too much disturbed about European troubles. He mingled with the public very little. He said he went to visit his family and to visit old friends, but he knew that Ireland was living to a large extent its usual quiet peaceful life.

M. E. C. SEEKS NEW MEMBERS

The Mississippi Economic Council is seeking additional memberships in Hancock County, in order to give it a broader base of representation. Dan M. Russell, Jr., local county chairman, announced this week.

The local membership drive is part of the statewide campaign of the Council to secure at least 500 new members within the next few weeks, the chairman said. Area directors, along with chairmen, are staging drives in all counties at this time. Tom Tubbs, West Point attorney, is membership chairman for north Mississippi, while Thad Lampton, Columbia banker, is chairman for south Mississippi.

The following three reasons were given for needing additional members in the MEC:

1. To spread the organization's representation on a broader basis, especially in counties where its present membership is scattered.
2. To finance additional activities of the Council being undertaken by committees in the field of manufacturing, social welfare, and agriculture and conservation.
3. To take care of the inevitable shrinkage from resignations and delinquent accounts.

Persons interested in affiliating with the Council are invited to contact the local chairman, or send in their membership checks to MEC headquarters in Jackson. Minimum membership subscription for an individual is $25 per year, and for a firm, $50.

OLE MISS EDITOR MISSE

The recent hullabaloo over an editorial appearing in the student newspaper at Ole Miss has received national attention and has caused much criticism to be hurled at the members of the student body of the university.

The editor of the student newspaper, Albin Krebs of Pascagoula, wrote an editorial favoring the admission of Negroes to white graduate schools of the state. This caused an immediate storm of protest by many members of the student body. Many demanded Krebs' immediate resignation as head of the campus newspaper, and others even suggested that he be expelled from the university.

You may not agree with the opinions expressed by Krebs, in fact, he may have been dead wrong; but certainly you cannot approve the unthinking actions of many of the student body.

It is unfortunate that the students of a university do not recognize the right of an editor to express his opinions in the editorial columns of a newspaper even though those opinions might be totally contrary to theirs. It should be understood by all, that the editorial page of any newspaper is designed for the expressed purpose of the editor's opinion. It is the place where the editor may comment on the affairs of the day and say what he pleases about them. Were it not for the editorial page of a newspaper, opinions could find their way into the news columns, and the reader would not get the news as it should be free from editorial bias.

Though the young editor at Oxford may have shown a lack of judgment, in what he wrote, he was within his rights and displayed courage as an editor to say what he did. This does not mean that an editor is completely free of any and all restraints as to what he might write in an editorial. A mature and conscientious editor will impose self restraint upon himself and write and comment on what he thinks is to the best interest of his readers. A good editor will do his best to analyze the news of the day and its significance.

The opinions of an editor may not always agree with those of his readers, but this is as it should be. Diversity of opinions creates discussion and interest in current events. We can only form sound opinions and conclusions by knowing what the other fellow thinks.

There are few countries left in the world today where the editor can openly criticize the conduct of government, the president, or openly and without fear, comment on anything he feels like. This is a wonderful and marvelous freedom that all responsible editors cherish.

If a reader doesn't like what an editor writes, tell him so, either by word of mouth, or by letter. Don't try to stop him from saying what he thinks or tell him what he can print. If this privilege is ever denied a newspaper, it won't be long before you too will be suffering from the many denials now existing in countries behind the iron curtain.

Rocks Blast Brooklyn

Friday night in a drizzling rain and what felt like freezing weather, the St. Stanislaus Rockchaws chalked up their fifth win in six games against the Brooklyn Aggies of Forrest County. The Aggies were the first to score on an intercepted pass from the Rockchaw 20 yard line. Soon after however, the Rocks became acclimated to the weather and the issue was never further in doubt.

The first quarter found the score 6 to 0 in favor of the Aggies. Upon changing goals, the rockchaws went to work and marched down the field to the thirty yard line of the Aggies from where Jerry Rooney scooted around end for the first Rock marker. Rooney's placement was good and the Rocks led 7 to 6, never to relinquish the lead. On the last play of the second quarter, Jerry Rooney again sped around end, this time from the 25 to make it 13 to 6. Rooney's placement was wide.

The third quarter was all Stanislaus as Rooney raced around left end for 45 yards and his third T. D. of the evening. The Rocks failed to convert. A few plays later, Gilbert Schmidt broke over right tackle from the Rock thirty yard line and scooted 70 yards for the 4th Rock-A-Chaw T. D. of the night making the score 25 to 6, at the end of the third quarter. On the last play of the fourth quarter, Jerry Rooney sped around right end for the fifth T. D. of the night, his fourth of the evening and his thirteenth of the year. These four T. Ds coupled with the two PATs pushed his point making up to 86 for the year and established him as one of the leading scorers of the state.

The entire Rock-A-Chaw forward wall played its usual fine offensive and defensive game. The passing of Jimmy Holmes and the fine kicking of Bill Huvor together with Rooney's running were the individual highlights of the night.

This Friday, the Rocks meet the strong GCMA eleven on the Rock home field. If victorious, the Stanislaus eleven may be paired in a postseason game with some other strong ball club.

Pass City Tax Levy Increases Two Mills

The Mayor and Board of Aldermen met Tuesday night and set the city's 1950 fiscal tax levy at 35 mills. This is two mills above the levy of last year. Mayor Francis J. Hursey said that rising cost of materials and equipment made the two mill increase necessary.

The breakdown shows that the general revenue fund increased from 12 to 14 mills, the school fund from 13 to 14 mills, while the bond interest and sinking fund was down one mill, from eight to seven mills.

The Board of Aldermen pointed out that there was only a one mill increase on the home-estate rate.

Col. Dayton L. Robinson again brought before the board the plans for extension of water mains in the Beach Hurst area. Col. Robinson, who is Alderman of the first ward, reported that some progress has been made in getting residents in that area signed to take city water.

Col. Robinson, and the residents who have already signed, are working with a concerted effort to obtain a sufficient number of signatures to take care of the bonds. The board hopes to give notice of its intention to issue water works extension bonds in the amount of $100,000 at their December meeting.

The board recessed until next Tuesday at which time they will appoint election managers for the general election in December. They also adopted and approved the real estate and personal tax roll. P. S. Ambler, Tax collector, said "we are ready to collect real estate and personal taxes, and I urge citizens to pay early and avoid congestion in January."

Methodist Plan A Fund Drive Soon

Jackson, (Special)—Mississippi Methodists are being asked, in a special good-will offering, to provide funds for the building of additional facilities at the Methodist Home here.

"About $100,000 is needed to augment donations from private donors to complete a well planned building program," Bishop Marvin Franklin, has stated.

The fund raising drive has the approval of Bishop Franklin, the Home Superintendent, and of both the North Mississippi Methodist Conferences of the state.

Conference resolutions, adopted in June, ask for "an offering to be taken the last preaching day before Thanksgiving in every local (Mississippi Methodist congregation) for the purpose of providing buildings to house the school, administration offices and chapel."

Due to circuit charges of some local preachers, it was pointed out, the day of solicitation of this free-will offering for each local congregation may not be the Sunday before Thanksgiving as on the calendar but in some instances will be soon after.

Nearly 5,000 children have been cared for by the Methodist Home in its 50 years of service to Mississippi. There are 115 members of the Methodist Home "family" this year.

HOME AGENT'S NOTES Protect Plants From Winter Weather

By MISS MADGE ALLRED

Lots of flower growers look for a way to protect a favorite plant, as an azalea or camellia, from winter weather. Here's an answer to your problem suggested by the Extension Horticulturist.

Drive long stakes around the plant and secure chicken-wire to these, forming a basket around the plant. Pack evergreen branches such as native pine and cherry laurel, and leaves into the basket to cover the plant.

This material should be removed when a period of warm weather comes, and it should never be left around the plant longer than 4 to 5 days as the plant needs air at intervals.

COTTAGE CHEESE

Cottage cheese deserves a more prominent place in family meal plans than it sometimes gets. It is an excellent source of protein—a necessity for good muscle growth and an aid in the prevention of fatigue.

Plain cottage cheese is relatively inexpensive. You will find, however, that if cream has been added it will cost about twice as much as the plain cottage cheese.

When cream is added, only the price and calories are increased. So, you will find plain cottage cheese the best buy when seeking protein. You can easily make the cheese at home from surplus milk.

Use cottage cheese as a stuffing for a tomato salad and in pie or cakes. Mix cottage cheese with raisins to use as sandwich filling. Stuff prunes with it for salads. Or, serve it the way you like best to add variety and interest to your meals.

START NOW ON SPRING GARDEN

Too much cannot be said about preparing your garden during the fall and winter for early spring planting. In January and February we often have a few days for planting Irish Potatoes, English peas and other such vegetables.

If the entire job of preparing the plot has to be done before planting, often a rain or bad weather will catch you before you can do the entire job. If the rows are ready for planting, you can do the job even during a brief half day of good weather.

If you don't take advantage of the pretty weather when it's available, you may find you'll have to omit planting early spring vegetables due to lateness of the season.

DISHWASHING LIGHT

The sink is the most important "seeing center" in the kitchen. Placing the sink in front of a window doesn't solve the problem after sundown—and that's the time that supper dishes are washed during many months of the year.

A pin to wall lamp is the simplest answer here, when a ceiling outlet has not been provided. Generally, one can be attached to the window casing, wall or the side of a wall cabinet. An extra length of extension cord may be needed to reach the nearest outlet.

Where electricity is not available, the kerosene or gas lights should be placed on wall shelves or brackets near the working areas in the kitchen. Reflectors placed at the back of such lamps increase the amount of light.

If you place the lamps a little above eye level they light a larger area and avoid direct glare for the worker.

Billy Pitcairn Has Birthday Party

Children of Billy's age enjoying the party were Cheri Rogers, Sue Porter, Linda Hamilton, Linda McCulloch, Lan Madden, Mary Alice Stout, Pierce Jones, Harry Shattuck, Lucien Bourgeois, Bob Whitfield, Chuck Breath, Mary Douglas Murtagh, and little Sally Porter and Billy's sister Valda Pitcairn.

Students To Be Central High Guest

Students from all over Mississippi will be the guests of Central High School on December 11-12 when they will be host to the second annual meeting of the Mississippi Association of Student Councils. Headquarters for the convention will be the Robert E. Lee Hotel, and meetings will be conducted in the hotel as well as in the new Woolfolk State Office Building.

The organizational meeting of the Mississippi Association of Student Councils was held in McComb last spring. State officers elected at that time included the following: president, Ed McCool, Central High School senior and head of the student council; vice-president, Meredith Burch, McComb High School; secretary, Carolyn Bonist, Natchez High School; treasurer, John Campbell, Central High School.

Miss Vora Netterville of McComb heads the executive sponsor committee of the state group. Miss Frances Simmons, sponsor of the Central High School student council, in expressing her hopes for a successful M. A. S. C., outlined plans being made and stated the purpose of the convention as "an encouragement of leadership through an organization representing the state schools."

Schools belonging to the state organization will be contacted concerning the state convention. Those schools which are not members and which do not receive letters may request information by writing Ed McCool, Central High School, Jackson, Miss.

Steps In Control Of Tomato Rot

State College, Miss.—Tomato plant producers in Mississippi now find the growing of disease-free plants more important than ever in view of new State Plant Board regulations concerning certification. Dr. Douglas C. Bain, plant pathologist at the Truck Crops Branch Experiment Station at Crystal Springs, offers the following recommendations, based on his research work.

Seed treatment is an effective way to insure a good stand by controlling seed rot and damping-off. abels on some seed show that they have been treated before sale. If the seed have not been treated, add 1 1/2 level teaspoonsful of copper oxide (Cuprocide) or 2 1/2 teaspoonsful of Arasan per pound of seed and shake vigorously for a few minutes in a closed container. Seed may be treated any time prior to planting.

Fumigation of hot bed and cold-frame soil with tear gas is highly desirable because it kills the root-knot nematode, most weed seeds and rids the soil of most of the fungi which cause damping-off. Soil treatment, however, is ineffective if not properly done. Soil to be treated should be thoroughly worked and pulverized to a depth of 6 or 8 inches; it should be moist but not wet, and the soil temperature should be 40 degrees F. or higher. Mark off lines 12 inches apart one way and then 12 inches apart the other way so as to form squares. Punch a hole about 6 inches deep in the center of each square. Pour about 1/4 teaspoonful of the liquid (Larvacide, tear gas, or chloropicrin) in each hole and then fill the holes by raking dirt over them. A one-pound bottle should be sufficient for 500 square feet. The treated area should then be sprinkled with water until the surface is wet enough to form a seal. After 2 or 3 days, stir the soil with a rake so that the fumes may escape. Do not plant seeds until all traces of the odor of tear gas are gone. This may require about 2 weeks. After treatment, use clean implements and keep out trash or untreated soil.

A gas mask is desirable but if none is available be sure that the breeze, if any, blows from the user towards the tear gas. Also, if any of the liquid spills on the skin, it should be washed off immediately with soap and water. As soon as seedlings start showing true leaves, a spray schedule should be started to protect them from Alternaria leaf spot and collar rot—two diseases that are fairly common on seedlings. Either Tribasic Copper Sulphate or Copper Compound can be used at the rate of 4 pounds to 100 gallons (2 ounces to 3 gallons), or Parzate or Dithane Z-78 at the rate of 2 pounds to 100 gallons (1 ounce to 3 gallons). An equal weight of a cheap grade of flour should be added to either of the copper materials (but is not necessary for the other two) to act as a sticking agent. The plants should be sprayed every 10 days beginning when the first true leaf is well formed—do not wait until disease starts showing up because spray is a protectant and not cure the disease.

Although one-third of the local funds is spent for education, the $84.00 spent per child is an increase over the state average of $73.00. This is far below the national average of $206.00.

The average salary of white teachers is $1900, colored faculty, $1400. The number of pupils per teacher varies from 25 to 40. The state provides a specific grant of $1800 for the vocational instructor. All teachers are on a retirement program originated in 1944. The state matches their four per cent of salary and they are permitted to retire either after 30 years of service or at 65 years of

This is the second of a series of articles on the recent survey "Know Your Town," made by the Provisional League of Women Voters of Hancock County.

EDUCATION

The school system of Bay St. Louis provides four public schools: Central School, built in 1926 houses both grade and high school pupils; Webb and Taylor Schools are grade schools in the wards; the colored school, Valena C. Jones School, incorporates both grade and high school. It was built in 1947. In addition, there are three parochial schools: St. Rosa de Lima for colored, St. Stanislaus College for boys, and St. Joseph's Academy for girls. There is also the newly organized Christ Episcopal School for kindergarten and the first grade.

This study was based on the public school system alone. The Mississippi State Department of Education controls budget approval; sets up the accrediting committee; adopts books to be used; establishes courses of study and teachers qualifications. State grants to the city are: $7.50 per capita in high school; $5.50 for grade school; and $4.00 for each colored student.

The town governing body appoints the members of the five man board for terms of five years each. The term of each member is so staggered that a majority of old members remains in office constantly. The board in turn elects the superintendent for a period of not less than three years, and the faculty for all schools. The meeting held once each month is open to the public. The school paper and the local press are avenues of information to the parents on student activities.

The enrollment for 1950 reached 725, divided thusly: 576 white children and 149 colored. Physical facilities of all four schools are adequate. With the exception of Valena C. Jones school, where current appropriations have been designated for new buildings, free equipment is provided for all. Compulsory attendance of only eighty days is required.

A lunch program operates at all the schools from state and federal commodity programs. Fifteen cents is charged for each meal, with any profit being returned to equipment.

However, Bay St. Louis has had a very good fire record for years, and in case of emergency the fire department of Waveland, Pass Christian, and Gulfport can be called upon for assistance.

FIRE PROTECTION

The fire department consists of three paid members, selected and controlled by the mayor and commissioners, and seventeen volunteers, controlled by the fire chief. A training course for new members is given once a year, as is a public fire prevention program. The fire station is located on Ulman Avenue and Second Street. Fire equipment consists of a fire engine, purchased in 1929, and fire hoses, purchased in 1948. Fire insurance rates are higher than they should be, due to lack of sufficient fire hydrants, and to the fact that most of the water mains in town are smaller than the four inch size required for adequate pressure in extinguishing fires.

However, Bay St. Louis has had a very good fire record for years, and in case of emergency the fire department of Waveland, Pass Christian, and Gulfport can be called upon for assistance.

"Telephone Fishing" To Be Penalized

Following a mass meeting called by the Marion County Wildlife Conservation League at Columbia on October 31st, eight Justices of the Peace in Marion County issued a signed statement to the Columbian Progress, weekly newspaper, in which they stated that they would invoke penalties provided in Section 2562 of the Mississippi Code of 1942, which provides for a maximum fine of $500.00 and imprisonment in the county jail not more than six months for infraction of laws where penalties are not set forth by statute.

The Justices of the Peace stated that anyone convicted in their courts of 'telephone fishing' would be given a minimum fine of $100.00 for the first offense.

In their statement they called upon sportsmen to observe proper harvesting methods in order not to deplete the native catfish in Mississippi streams. Justices of the Peace who signed the statement are J. Knox Polk, M. E. Barber, Percy Merritt, C. O. Stevens, M. R. Broom, H. W. Martin, E. I. Singley, and I. W. Bracey. Justices Harry Slocumb and Ed Taylor could not be reached in time to get their statement in this week's issue of the Sea Coast Echo.

S. J. A. Mothers Meet

Four hundred and thirty-four dollars and eighty-six cents was the sum realized by the St. Joseph Academy Mothers Club at their recent spaghetti supper, Mrs. Robert L. Camors, president announced.

Approximately twenty five members and Mothers Mary of the Rosary attended the organization's regular monthly meeting Tuesday, November 7 in the school den. Mother Mary of the Rosary thanked the club for the benches given for the yard and for their work in making the spaghetti supper a success.

As carnival falls on an early date this year, the question of the carnival ball was discussed. Following the discussion, the members were invited to visit the Convent Chapel which has been moved from the third to the second floor.

The fifth and eighth grades won the attendance prize, and Mrs. E. M. Brignac won the entrance prize. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mesdames E. P. Larroux and J. S. Blanchard.

The Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) officially opened its 1950 harvest appeal to rural Americans to help underprivileged and hungry people overseas with relief in kind by dedicating an entire shipload of foodstuffs on United Nations Day in Chicago. The cargo was made up of advanced contributions from 17 states where CROP this year operates and government surplus of powdered eggs and dried milk. Participating in the ceremony were 10 children seen above in Ukrainian national costumes who sang "America" in English and in the Ukrainian tongue. Some of the government surplus is seen in the inset during loading ceremonies flanked by Carl Key (right), CROP's Regional Field Directors.

CHICAGO—From the farms of America, the flow of food directed by the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) to feed the needy in Europe and Asia is gaining volume for the fourth season of CROP activity.

How the sharing of food by individual farmers with the world's needy amounts to a substantial total has been demonstrated by CROP in its first three years. More than 3,550 freight carloads of various foods have been collected, sent abroad and distributed through the three parent agencies: Catholic Rural Life, Church World Service and Lutheran World Relief. This year they are aiming at 1,350 carloads.

The central ideas of CROP's program are that food in kind sent by bona fide farmers is a lot better than money and (2) that the spirit of Christian good will is essential in a gift, even in such practical items as corn and beans.

These principles were emphasized when CROP ceremonies started a Friendship Food Ship from Chicago on United Nations Day, October 24. Aboard the freighter were quantities of food symbolizing the carloads soon to move from farm centers to seaport, and dried eggs and powdered milk contributed from government surplus stocks. Children in the costumes of their parent lands brightened the scene and a band provided by the courtesy of the Chicago Federation of Musicians played the National Anthem.

"Man does not live by bread alone, but by a combination of bread and the divine spirit which CROP exemplifies," said the speaker of the day, Dr. Raymond W. Miller, Consultant of The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

Recently returned from trips to Europe and Asia for FAO, Dr. Miller told of seeing the result of a small planting of hybrid seed corn provided by CROP and taken to Italy by a representative of Catholic Rural Life.

"In America hybrid corn is commonplace, but there, even in a small plot, it had increased the yield so that it was the most talked-about thing in the Po Valley," he said.

CROP operates as state organizations in 10 states. In most of them, the governor is chairman of the CROP unit. Out in the farm areas, the gifts of food are collected and taken to central points where carloads can be assembled.

The kinds of food handled by CROP include wheat, corn, rice, beans, peas, soybeans, lard, honey, dried fruits and nuts. The corn is processed and the oil and syrup derived are shipped overseas.

A considerable quantity of baled cotton has been sent along with the food as a means of furnishing work. The cotton and the seed corn, in the words of Dr. Miller, do a special good by "helping the recipients to help themselves."

Approximately 60 carloads of food were aboard the Friendship Food Ship. Additional carloads will start moving soon in a regular

Recently returned from trips to Europe and Asia for FAO, Dr. Miller told of seeing the result of a small planting of hybrid seed corn provided by CROP and taken to Italy by a representative of Catholic Rural Life.

"In America hybrid corn is commonplace, but there, even in a small plot, it had increased the yield so that it was the most talked-about thing in the Po Valley," he said.

CROP operates as state organizations in 10 states. In most of them, the governor is chairman of the CROP unit. Out in the farm areas, the gifts of food are collected and taken to central points where carloads can be assembled.

The kinds of food handled by CROP include wheat, corn, rice, beans, peas, soybeans, lard, honey, dried fruits and nuts. The corn is processed and the oil and syrup derived are shipped overseas.

A considerable quantity of baled cotton has been sent along with the food as a means of furnishing work. The cotton and the seed corn, in the words of Dr. Miller, do a special good by "helping the recipients to help themselves."

Approximately 60 carloads of food were aboard the Friendship Food Ship. Additional carloads will start moving soon in a regular

Troopers Need Help In War On Rustlers

In just a few months of operation and with limited personnel, we have recovered thousands of dollars worth of livestock, have already sent a number of persons to the penitentiary and still another group awaiting action of the Grand Jury in a number of counties. With all the work we are doing we need and must have the cooperation of all concerned, and, therefore, farmers and cattlemen are urged to take extra precautions during the winter months to guard against the theft of cattle and other livestock.

The majority of cattle are stolen during the night, usually from some back road, or road running adjacent to pastures. All wire gaps and gates leading into these roads should be locked or done away with as this gives the rustler easy access to the pastures.

One practice is for the rustler to make contact with some local person who will steal the cattle and have them tied at a designated spot near the road, usually in some creek swamp or bushes. In this manner the rustler's truck will only be there for a very short time.

Fences should be checked regularly to see if they have been cut or tampered with, and the cattle checked and counted as often as possible.

Investigate all gunshot heard in pastures, as someone may be shooting the cattle for the purpose of butchering them.

Take description and tag number of all cattle trucks seen parked or driving on roads near pastures.

REMEMBER WHEN

...cooking was only half the chore

Cooking on those old-fashioned stoves was difficult enough, but cooking was only half the chore. There was wood to chop, fires to build—and the inevitable bucket full of ashes to carry away. What a difference today... when natural gas provides instant heat at the turn of a knob. A new AUTOMATIC GAS RANGE is an asset to the smartest kitchen. It makes cooking easier, faster, cleaner and cooler... at surprisingly low cost. See the outstanding new models today... wherever good gas appliances are sold.

The companies which make up the natural gas business have had an important part in bringing business prosperity to the Gulf South area. The money they pay out in payrolls and royalties, the money they spend with local merchants for supplies, the taxes they pay... ultimately work their way into the channels of trade. That helps to make business better for everyone—everywhere.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

Good Dairy Pastures Bring Returns

By HOWARD SIMMONS

DAIRY TASKS

For greatest returns from dairying, it is important now, just as at all other periods of the year, to follow good practices.

One such practice is to repair roofs and siding where needed on barns and sheds where herds are to be housed this winter. It does not pay to allow cows and heifers the open run of fields and lots at night and during cold falling weather.

Control grazing on winter grazing crops. Since some dairymen planted late and shorter acreage than usual, the trend will be to graze early and to over-graze.

Watch the calf crop for signs of lice and intestinal parasites. There parasites can soon eat up a lot of high cost feed, and frequently kill heifers under a year old.

Remember that heifers by good production-bred bulls are a large slice of the income from the herd. Late November and December is the time to breed cows and heifers for early fall freshening.

Economists advise dairymen who have to purchase protein and some other feeds this winter to buy or contract for these products without delay. They list corn, oats, cottonseed meal, wheat bran and other grain by-product feeds. It may save on price to contract for hay.

With much low-grade hay for feeding this winter, dairymen should not overlook the importance of feeding minerals now and on through the winter. Add one or two percent of good mineral mixture to the concentrate mixture, and allow free access to minerals in covered mineral boxes.

A good mineral mixture may be made by mixing equal parts of salt and steamed feed bone meal. Or mix equal parts of salt, oyster shell flour and steamed feed bone meal.

The latter mixture is probably best with low grade luggage and where heavy feeding of cotton seed meal at wheat bran is practiced.

FOOD GRAZING

The farmer who planted a small acreage for winter grazing and manages it well will make more than one who planted more and fails to manage it all.

Management means first not to overgraze.

For oats, start grazing when the crop is about six inches high. Graze dairy cows two hours daily.

Beef animals being fattened should be kept on the oats all the time, a 500 pound animal per acre. Ewes with lambs and hogs are also grazed all the time.

Have four or five ewes on each acre of grazing; one acre per sow and litter or for 12 to 15 shoats is right.

To have mid-winter grazing from oats, the growth must be made during the fall. But watch oats grazed lightly and add more livestock if necessary to keep them from jointing out.

The electric fence is the best tool for good management of winter grazing areas. Fields of oats, ryegrass or fescue can be divided and one side grazed while the other rests. This adds many days of grazing to the area.

When cultivated areas in winter grazing get wet, go to the sod land oats and fescue.

If signs of nitrogen giving out show up in late November on oats, fescue or ryegrass, topdress with 30 pounds of nitrogen if the weather is still warm.

PARADE WILL OPEN SHRINERS' CIRCUS

The traditional pre-show street parade, revived with great success last year by the Jerusalem Temple Shrine Circus, will be presented again Wednesday evening, November 22, the night before the show opens its run at Municipal Auditorium.

"Arrangements already completed assures us that this year's parade will top the spectacular 30-block procession put on in 1949," A. J. (Jud) Poche, Grand Marshall, said, today. Norman Levenson is chairman of the circus publicity committee.

All the animal and human stars of the big show will take part. Mr. Poche said. Supporting them will be colorfully costumed Shrine marching organizations. More than 20 bands will provide music for the event.

Mayor de Lesseps Morrison, Shrine Potentate J. Edward Salathe and Grand Marshal Poche will lead the parade. A king and queen will be selected from among the orphans who annually attend the Circus Daddy free matinee.

The parade will form at the auditorium, and will start promptly at 7:30. It is expected to reach Canal St. at about 7:45.

From the auditorium, it will move up North Rampart to Canal, turn out to LaSalle, cross to the opposite side of Canal and proceed on Canal to Camp, again cross Canal and continue to Rampart, where it turns down to the Auditorium again to disband.

The parade will offer an amper preview of the attractions of the big show, and is expected to draw a crowd in excess of last year's nearly 200,000.

Herds of elephants, cages of lions and tigers, wild African roars, albino deer, monkeys, zebras, camels and ulmas are among the jungle animals which will be on view. Liberty horses, Shetland ponies and Belgian Percherons will be in the equine contingent.

Bespangled acrobats, aerialists and other circus stars in glittering costumes will ride on floats or in automobiles. The show's top horsemen will ride their highly-trained mounts in the procession.

Scores of clowns will march in the parade, entertaining the crowd with wacky stunts. Trained dogs will perform on a moving stage, while other floats will contain artists showing generous samples of their acts.

Costumed Shrine units that will participate include the Arab Patrol, mounted Patrol, Chanters, Rangers, Provost Guards, Bowlers, Arabians, Delta Shrine Club and Vol's Shrine Clowns.

Musical organizations will include the Police Band, the VFW Drum and Bugle Corps, the American Legion Band, the Jerusalem Temple band, the Shrine Drum and Bugle Corps, the Millionaire (clown) band, the Oriental band and more than a dozen high school bands. A calliope will provide traditional circus music.
